

Long Branch June 14/89

Mr Fox,

Dear Sir;

Your letter
just received, and I haden to reply. My coins are new american two dollar pieces, they were given to me only a few years ago, and came out of the mint at Washington.
One side is intact, but the other has a little engraving on it. At the time I wrote I needed money & wanted to know if they could be exchanged for good money, but now I find that I will not be obliged to part with them, for which I am thankful, as they were given to me by a dear friend, but I would be much obliged to you if you would let me know, if I could exchange them if I really needed money at some future time.

Thanks for kindly answering my letter.

Yours sincerely

Mr. Fox,

Dear Sir,

Your letter just received, and I hasten to reply. My coins are new American tin dollar pieces, they were given to me only a few years ago, and came out of the Mint at Washington. One side is intact, but the other has a letter engraved on it. At the time I wrote I needed money, & wanted to know if they could be exchanged for good money, but now I find that I will not be obliged to part with them, for which I am thankful, as they were given to me by a dear friend, but I would be much obliged to you if you would let me know, if I could exchange them if I really needed money at some future time. Thanks for kindly answering my letter.

Yours sincerely,
